

Welcome to edition 201 of Speedway Australia's Speed eNews.

ONLINE WAIVER REMINDER

Just a reminder that some form of waiver must be completed by everyone entering the pit area, with venues able to choose which they would prefer to utilise.

OPTION 1 – SPEEDWAY AUSTRALIA APP

The latest update of the Speedway Australia app sees a button on the main screen dedicated to the pre-event waiver. People planning on attending any race meeting may now pre-fill the waiver from the comfort of their own home, days (even months) in advance of the next race meeting. The track will receive confirmation of this courtesy of an email.

OPTION 2 – QR CODE AT THE VENUE

Tracks are able to print and laminate a QR code provided by Speedway Australia to be placed outside the pit gate or entry point, much like what you'll find at your local café or McDonalds. This QR code, which may be scanned by the camera on most modern mobile phones, provides a direct link for patrons to the online waiver form, with confirmation sent directly to the venue in the same manner as the mobile phone app.

OPTION 3 – INDEMNITY WAIVER PADS

The old-style hard copy pads are still available, with COVIDSafe regulation requiring strict protocols relating to the use of pens, and social distancing measures around the sign-in area.

OPTION 4 – NOT SIGNING A WAIVER

This is not an option! Signing the indemnity waiver is of vital importance to venues, divisions, and participants, protecting the sport and ensuring people entering the pit area are aware of their obligations and risks. Should your venue require any hard copies of the old-style 12-person form or have any queries regarding the new alternatives to pit indemnity waivers, don't hesitate to contact us using the details below.

IT'S ALL GO AT ILLABO!

The team at Illabo Motorsports Park have almost completed a substantial makeover of their venue that sits 40 minutes north-west of Wagga and 15 minutes outside of Junee. The scope of works scheduled for the track include:

- New Security fence around the spectator & drivers briefing enclosure
- A new 360 sq m shade cover in the spectator area .
- A 180 seat grandstand positioned under the new shade area .
- A 20m extension to safety barrier in the spectator area .

- An upgrade of the PA system with additional speakers in the main pit area( x 2 ) one in the drivers briefing enclosure and one extra in the extended spectator area .
- The On -Track New Safety Lights( replacing flags )

Club president Kerry Phelan said “All this would not have been possible without the valued help from our dedicated band of Club volunteers, who in the past months have helped pull all this together.”

Congratulations to this great club with such a strong vision and passion for our sport!

WORKSHOPS WEDNESDAY IS SCHEDULED!

After the success of the Commentary Collective, Speedway Australia is excited to introduce WORKSHOP WEDNESDAYS that will engage industry experts for one-hour sessions to give insights into key areas of the sport.

Track Prep, Photography, Event Promotion, Race Timing and Sponsorship are the first subjects covered in March, with discussions in place for other topics to be covered throughout the year.

Speedway Australia General Manager Darren Tindal was excited by the initiative and was looking forward to seeing the sport elevated as expert knowledge was passed on.

“The amazing feedback we continue to receive from the Commentary Collective has inspired the team to produce more of these interactive sessions for other vital areas, so we’re eager to see how the sport improves as a result.”
